The Covid-19 epidemic continues with Lawrence having some of the highest positive case counts in the State of Massachusetts. As the state and the city begin to open in phases, the department continues to remain fully operational, 24/7

On February 1, 2020 the first case of COVID-19 was diagnosed in Massachusetts. As the month went on the number of cases grew and began to have significant effects in Lawrence by the end of the month and into early March.

On March 10, 2020 the Governor of Massachusetts, Charlie Baker declared a State of Emergency.

It was clear early on that this Pandemic was going to change policing in the City of Lawrence now and for the immediate future. The department quickly began to formulate plans and to gather supplies to safeguard the officers, who would still be tasked with providing emergency services to the community.

The department command staff began meeting immediately to address the virus issue and discuss contingency and operational plans. A number of issues were addressed to include staffing, change of shifts, positive test results for officers, officer safety, supplies, cleaning, police responses, new policy and procedures. The department needed to be ready to adjust to the daily changing environment and plan for any changes to COVID-19 trends. The CDC, Federal and State government and world trends was constantly monitored to stay updated on best practices.

The department acquired masks, gloves, Tyvek suits, and googles for each officer.

The normal cleaning of the station was increased significantly to ensure safety. This included not only an increase of the amount of times cleaning was done but also additional steps that were taken. The department acquired an electrostatic cleaning gun that was used decontaminate the entire station as well as the patrol cruisers. This same process was done at all Lawrence Fire houses by our staff. A decontamination station was set up at the station which called for every officer to enter the building from one door only and go through a decontamination process.

All non-essential personnel at the department were moved to at home work status. The staff was supplied with laptops and computer access to continue to perform their duties. In order to maintain services while limiting exposure the department limited the services citizens were normally accustomed to receiving at the station, and many were moved to many online reporting measures. All officers were required to wear masks and maintain distance from each other while at the station. Officers were encouraged to do their work from the cruisers and not back at the station. Supervisors monitored the amount of officers at the station at one time and roll call for officers was conducted in an open area garage to maintain space. Any citizens needing emergency services at the station were required to wear masks. Officers scaled back normal enforcement activities to emergency services only in an effort to minimize exposure.

Through the month of March, three (3) Lawrence Police Officers tested positive for the COVID-19 virus. Each officer was quarantined for a period of up to fourteen (14) days or until cleared by their doctor. All three (3) officers have since returned to full duty with no issues.

Along with providing emergency services to the community, the department was tasked with providing coverage for school lunches at five (5) locations Monday through Friday. The officers also participated in a two-day educational distribution of leaflets with the Massachusetts National Guard and Massachusetts State Police on March 28-29. During this operation more than 20,000 leaflets, encouraging residents to "Stay Home" among other need to know suggestions, were given out.

As the month of March ends the department and the city continue to deal with the COVID-19 issues. The number of cases in Lawrence has exceeded 1,000. The department continues to plan for the future, using the knowledge gained with this first experience. A large number of supplies continue to be stockpiled in anticipation of a return of the virus in the future.

Through the next 3 months, April-June, the department continued to deal with and adapt to the on-going Covid-19 epidemic. All security and safety measure for the officers and the public remain in effect at the station. The officers continue to be updated on the positive case locations and continue to use all PPE's when dealing with the public. As of this date the department had a total number of eight (8) officers test positive for the virus, all have since returned to work without restriction.

The department had and continues to have a presence at all city events including mask patrols, school lunches, and food pantry distribution. A large number of supplies for cleaning, decontamination and for the officer's protection continue to be ordered with an anticipated of a second wave of the virus this fall.

THE DEATH OF GEORGE FLOYD

The acts of these officers were egregious, unlawful and should not have taken place. The department condemns these actions and put out a strong statement to social media expressing our outrage and disappointment. This statement can be found on the Lawrence PD website at: <http://www.lawpd.com/CivicAlerts.aspx?AID=385>

The fact that racism still exists in this country is appalling and it has no place in law enforcement. We stand with those who deserve to be treated fairly, regardless of race, creed or color.

We stand committed to do our part daily.

As a result of the events surrounding the death of George Floyd on May 25th in Minneapolis, Minnesota the country experienced a great deal of unrest. A large number of protests began being organized by a number of groups to include Black Lives Matter.

The department began receiving social media information that several planned protests were being scheduled for the City of Lawrence. Specifically, two (2) protests were scheduled for Friday, June 5th and Sunday, June 7th.

The department attempted to contact various groups to facilitate a dialogue with the organizations. The goal was to allow for the protesters to have an opportunity to gather and be heard in a peaceful and supportive setting. The department was inundated by both residents and business owners who were fearful of violence and damage in the city during these events. The images of protests turning violent across the country certainly drove this fear.

The department expected a peaceful event after having numerous conversations with the group organizers, who made it clear they wanted peaceful demonstrations. There was a comprehensive safety and security plan put in place in the event the protests turned violent or that damage was occurring in the city.

The protest on Friday, June 5th took place in the Campagnone Common, starting around 5pm. The department took a laid back approach to the event with only a limited amount of officers, dressed in regular uniforms, in the immediate area of the Common, blocking off traffic, so that pedestrians could attend the event safely. After the event on the Common a group marched to the area of the station and continued their demonstration. A number of officers, including the upper command staff, had open dialogue with the group for the remainder of the night. It ended without incident.

The protest held on Sunday, June 7th took place again on the Campagnone Common beginning around 2pm. The protestors gathered on the Common closest to City Hall and were joined by various officials including the mayor and the police. At one point they asked the Chief of Police to address the crowd, which he did. The event on the Common ended peacefully without incident and a group did reform at an area near the police station. For the most part the gathering at the station was peaceful with a number of conversations taking place between officers and the demonstrators. One arrest was made when an intoxicated person jumped the barrier and began throwing water bottles at the officers. There were no further incidents and the event ended.

Part 1 Crime

The first chart below provides the monthly totals for each Part 1 Crime for the first and second quarters, January– June, of 2019 and 2020<sup>1</sup>, as well as the quarter totals, and percent change. Part 1 Crimes include: Homicide, Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Felony Larceny, and Motor Vehicle theft. Adjacent, a second chart shows the average number of Part 1 Crimes reported during the first and second quarters. This number was calculated by averaging the total number of Part 1 Crimes that occurred during each quarter of the prior five years, 2015-2019. Finally, the third chart shows the clearance percentage for each Part 1 Crime. The department counts all incidents that are closed via arrest, warrant, or summons as cleared. The FBI/ UCR provides a national clearance percentage of Part 1 Crimes that are cleared by arrest or other means; these percentages are also provided<sup>2</sup>.

During the second quarter of 2020 the number of Part 1 Crime decreased by 32%; a total of sixty seven (67) less Part 1 Crimes than the second quarter of 2019. The number of Part 1 Crime decreased 59% when compared to the five year average. Year to date, January through June, Part 1 Crime has decreased by 27%. During the second quarter significant decreases were seen in aggravated assault, commercial burglary, and motor vehicle theft. A map on the following page shows the location of all Part 1 Crime.

Felony Larceny

Definition: The unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another<sup>1</sup>. The Crime Analysis Unit follows Massachusetts legislature and classifies Felony Larceny as those where the value of the property is over twelve hundred dollars.

During the second quarter of 2020, only two (2) incidents of felony larceny were reported. This is a decrease of 87% when compared to the second quarter of 2019. Year to date, incidents of felony larceny have decreased by 71%. It is important to note that in April 2018 a change in the Massachusetts legislature increased the threshold for felony larceny classification from $250 to $1200. This makes a true comparison to the five year average difficult. However, the department has seen a decrease in previously problematic areas, such as a tire theft. Felony larceny incidents from the second quarter of 2020 are mapped below.
